Franklin D. Roosevelt Acclaimed Cox's Running Mate at Frisco

TAMMANY SWALLOWS NEW YORK MAN GRACEFULLY AS OTHER "HOPES" WITHDRAW

(By Associated Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York, assistant secretary of the navy, was nominated for vice president today by the democratic national convention and became the running mate of Governor James M. Cox of Ohio, democracy's choice for the presidential nomination.

The first cries of "Cox and Roosevelt" rang through the convention hall and were mixed with the shouts of the vote of acclamation by which he was nominated without a ballot. Despite the disinclination of the Tammany organization to accept him, Roosevelt's name went over with a band wagon movement during which all other candidates were withdrawn.

James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois was withdrawn early by former Governor Dunne; Governor Stewart of Montana announced his own withdrawal; Edward L. Doheney of California and former Governor Hawley of Idaho were withdrawn and Major General L. D. Tyson of Tennessee in person announced he would not be a contender, as did David R. Francis of Missouri.

Nomination of W. T. Vaughn of Oregon, who had received state primary endorsement was changed into a second for the successful nominee. Bainbridge Colby, secretary of state, who was considered as a candidate and refused to allow his name to be used, finally was urged to consent if he should be "drafted."

Tammany Is Gracious
As it fell out, the Tammany crowd decided to accept Roosevelt, who brought to the ticket the participation of an administration man and Mr. Colby's name was not considered further.

Mr. Roosevelt was placed in nomination by Timothy L. Ambsberry, a former representative from Ohio, who sat as a Cox delegate in the District of Columbia delegation. Seconds sprang from all parts of the convention hall and though Roosevelt was not formally nominated until after the business of nominations was taken up, there was never any doubt about it and never at any time was there any opposition. WILSON AND HARDING FIRST TO CONGRATULATE GOV. COX

(By Associated Press)
DAYTON, Ohio, July 6.—In a telegram to the national democratic committee accepting the presidential nomination and thanking the delegates for their support, Governor James M. Cox today intimated he is ready to make an intensive speaking campaign in every state.

His close friends said he will urge his political advisors against a "front porch" campaign such as Senator Harding, republican nominee, expects to make at his home in Marion.

The governor said, however, no campaign plans have been made and plans will not be announced until party leaders return from San Francisco. Although he said he had not yet considered the matter, he indicated he had no intention of resigning as governor of Ohio in order to devote all of his time to the campaign. He pointed out that Senator Harding had announced he would not resign from the senate.

Governor Cox spent the day receiving old friends at his home, Trail's End, near Dayton, and in his office at his newspaper, the Dayton "News." Tonight he motored 25 miles to Middletown, Ohio, to make a brief address to friends and neighbors of his youthful days, when he was a news boy, printer's devil, school teacher and reporter in that city.

Hundreds of telegrams, including one of his nomination by Governor Smith of New York from the Tammany delegation clinched it.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, permanent chairman of the convention, was appointed chairman of the committee to notify Governor Cox of his nomination and Chairman Homer S. Cummings of the democratic national committee, was appointed chairman of the committee to notify Mr. Roosevelt.

Roosevelt Got His Start In Politics as Expedient

(By Associated Press)
POUGHKEEPSIE, July 6.—The little village of Hyde Park, the birthplace and summer residence of Franklin D. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy and democratic candidate for vice president, received quietly but with elation, the news that its favorite political son had been named as running mate to Governor Cox.

The Associated Press carried the first news of the nomination to Mr. Roosevelt's residence. Mr. Roosevelt first sprang into political prominence in 1910, when he was drafted by the "democrats" of the 28th New York state senatorial district in an effort to defeat Senator John F. Schlosser, who was a candidate for re-election. Roosevelt was successful, rolling up a majority of 356 in the democratic landslide which carried John A. Dix into the governor's chair.

One of the stories still told of his first campaign by local politicians is that he corralled the farmer vote by running on a platform which advocated uniform apple barrels.

Roosevelt was re-elected in 1912, but resigned his seat on March 17, 1913, to accept an appointment as assistant secretary of the navy. Since his appointment to the navy department he has spent most of his time in Washington, D. C.

He was born in Hyde Park January 30, 1882, the son of James and Sara Roosevelt. He is a distant relative of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt on his father's side and is related to the Astor family through his mother.

He attended Groton school and graduated in 1904, and Columbia Law school in 1907, being admitted to the New York bar the same year. He practiced law first with one well known New York firm and then transferred to another.

Mr. Roosevelt married Anna Eleanor Roosevelt, a niece of the late Colonel Roosevelt, on March 17, 1905.

congratulations from President Wilson and Senator Harding, were read during the day, but it was a physical impossibility for the democratic nominee to answer many of them. Several volunteer clerks were kept busy opening them.

The Ohio governor spent all of yesterday afternoon and last night listening to reports of progress of the convention. He received first news of his nomination from the Associated Press here in his newspaper office.

Together with Mrs. Cox and a few close friends and his newspaper assistants he had been watching the reports closely since the opening of the convention last week. When the flash came announcing his nomination, the governor sat for a minute as though stunned. Then he crossed the room and kissed his wife. His next act was to go to the composing room of his newspaper and shake hands with his printers. Later he walked several blocks to the home of his closest personal friend, John A. McMahon, 87, dean of Dayton attorneys, to whom he wished personally to break the news.

CELEBRATION IS QUIETER THAN EVER BEFORE

Frontier Days 1920 passed more quietly for the peace officers than any previous celebration, according to the sheriff's office, which had little complaint over the behavior of the crowds. Less disorder was experienced this year than last.

Chief of Police Tom McMahon and his officers handled the unusual traffic situation without a slip. It was out of the ordinary to see traffic directors on the main corners, but there were enough vehicles on the streets to make it necessary.

Visitors and contestants remained over yesterday and there was none of that morning-after the night before aspect to the streets, such as has followed previous celebrations.

Fourth of July passed without any large resounding noises, the city having prohibited fireworks in the hands of the youngsters. However, this feature of the Independence Day was not particularly missed by the older folks.

The best band the Frontier Days celebration has ever had is the judgment of music lovers on Pop Miller's aggregation of players this year. The concerts in the plaza and at the grounds were distinguished features of the show.

Cooperation of the merchants who closed their stores Monday so that their crews could attend the celebration was deeply appreciated by the management.

Possibly the largest crowd assembled any one place except at the grounds was that which attended the Firemen's Ball Monday night. The attendance was a deserved tribute to the efficient fire department.

G.O.P. to Make No Changes In Plan Due To Demo Choices

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, July 6.—Republican chiefs, gathered here today to formulate plans for the coming presidential election, appeared undisturbed by the democratic choice of a nominee from the home state of their candidate.

After arrival of Chairman Will Hays today work was begun on mapping out the campaign. A series of conferences are being arranged.

Chairman Hays refused to discuss the nomination of Governor Cox. Instead, he confined himself to laudation of the personal qualities of Senator Harding.

The first decision announced was that General Harding would remain in Ohio during most of the campaign. The Ohio "front porch" plan will be emphasized more than ever, it was said, while an endeavor will be made to satisfy local pride of other sections by spreading the word that the senator "will listen to reason."

JUAREZ, Mexico, July 6.—Plans for a winter horse racing season here are being discussed among horse owners, promoters and government officials. The length of the season has not been determined. Harding Will Still Adhere To His Porch Battle Plans

(By Associated Press)
MARION, Ohio, July 6.—Senator Harding, republican candidate for the presidency, spent a quiet day today receiving but few callers and devoting his time almost exclusively to his correspondence and the accumulation of data for his speech of acceptance.

Immediately after hearing of the selection of Governor Cox as the democratic presidential nominee, however, he sent him a congratulatory telegram, while in a statement he said the Ohio governor deserved the nomination, but that the selection would in no way alter his plans for a "front porch" campaign.

CZECHS GO BACK TO EUROPE BY THE CANAL

(By Associated Press)
HONOLULU, T. H., July 6.—Twenty-two hundred Czecho-Slovaks from the army of exiles that fought its way half across Europe and the breadth of Asia, paid Honolulu a short visit recently on their way home via Panama aboard the United States transport Edcllyn.

Clean appearing, well disciplined and smartly uniformed, this Tenth regiment of the Czecho-Slovakian army, under Lieut. Col. Micala Gila, was entertained and in turn played host during its three-day stop here.

The Hawaiian Red Cross and other organizations gave picnics and receptions for the visitors, and took them sightseeing. The Czecho-Slovaks in return gave Honolulu some music it will remember for many a day.

Their 65-piece band spread a feast of music in the national guard armory. Their soloists and their choruses sang songs of old Bohemia, songs some of which were old when the blind King Joun lost his three ostrich feathers and his motto to the British prince of Wales of the middle ages.

REBEL WILL BE GOOD ON OWN TERMS HE AGREES

(By Associated Press)
EL PASO, July 6.—A dispatch to the El Paso "Times" from its correspondent in Torreon, Mexico, says Villa has signed an armistice and agreed to cease attack on trains, garisons and towns.

The rebel chieftain has also agreed to surrender under certain conditions to be approved by President de la Huerta.

The armistice was negotiated by Elias L. Torres, who left El Paso two weeks ago for Villa's camp in the mountains near Saucillo, Chihuahua. Torres, who is in Torreon en route to Mexico City, authorized the announcement that an agreement had been entered into whereby Villa suspends all operations until July 15 and the further agreement to surrender if his terms are approved in writing by President de la Huerta and Generals Calles, Obregon and Benjamin Hill.

The signing of the Villa armistice, Torres says, was the signal for cheers for Obregon and de la Huerta.

General J. G. Escobar, commander of federal troops in Chihuahua, admitted receiving reports of the armistice, but declared the campaign would continue in the absence of direct orders to the contrary from Mexico City.

mar, Texas, county officers and a posse last night at Valiant, Okla. and were brought here and placed in jail this afternoon.

It was thought that there would be no trouble, but later in the day a crowd gathered, quickly increased and finally stormed the jail on the top floor of the court house, breaking down the iron outer door and took the negroes.

There was no disorder except the yelling of the crowd as the negroes were brought out. The prisoners were taken directly to the fair grounds north of the city, where a stake and fuel had been prepared. There, they were burned. The fair was over in an hour and a half after the negroes had been taken. The killing of Hodges and his son is said to have resulted from a dispute over money claimed by the farmer to be owed him by his negro tenants.
